To the voters of the Second Congressional District, of both races and all parties: After mature consideration, I have etermined to announce myself a candidate for Congress in the Second District, on the platform below. I am satisfied the principles therein announced will meet the approval and receive the endorsement of almost every voter in the District. The success of these measures will result in the immediate relief of the country, and the restoration of prosperity and happiness throughout our borders. I call upon every patriotic citizen—every man who loves his country and his wife and children more than party, to come to my support and aid in my election. I seek neither to effect a new political organization or to destroy an old one, but to unite upon an independent platform all who are favorable to the measures proposed. If all who approve these measures will come earnestly to my support, my election will be assured.

Very respectfully, B. F. Long.

His father urgently pressed him to give up his ambition for mercantile pursuits and prepare himself for the priesthood, but was met in turn by entreaties to give up such idea, as he had no thought of becoming a priest. Accordingly, John entered first the publishing house of St. John Murphy, in Baltimore, and in about twelve months secured a position in the dry goods house of John S. Barry & Co., where he remained about two years. During his connection with these houses he was very attentive to his religious duties. His regular frequentation of the sacrament, his exemplary conduct and his modesty strongly impressed his spirit-ual guide, Father Foley, (at present Bishop of Chicago,) who, perceiving the evidences of a true vocation for the ministry, advised the young penitent to give up the world and surrender himself wholly to God's services. Acting in accordance with this advice, the subject of this sketch made arrangements to enter St. Charles College, which he did in 1859, at the age of 20.

After a course of three years he graduated at St. Charles College with first honors, and entered St. Mary's Semihonors, and entered St. Mary's Semi-nary in 1862. Having completed the regular course of moral and dogmatic theology, sacred eloquence, &c, he was ordained by Archbishop Spalding on July 2, 1866. Capt of Mrs. Hayes. According to statemen of those knowing the facts, the domes-tic portion of the White House has had considerably more to do with the management of the arsenal than is quite ecoming. Shortly after Mr. Hayes was inaugurated, a Mr. Jones, of Coiumbus, who was on good terms with Governor Hayes and family, and whose wife was particularly intimate with Mrs Hayes, was appointed to a clerkship at the arsenal and was assigned Gov-ernment quarters. He was after a while, promoted to be chief clerk, and his quarters, paid for by the Government, improved apace and became quite luxurious. In the mean time ones, by improving his opportunities, became an important feature of the arsenal, and his authority was regarded almost as highly as that of the commandant. At about this time, it is asserted, several articles of value, beonging to the Government began to dissppear, and the soldiers said that old rass cannon had been rolled down the embankment, carried off, and sold for old brass.

Cf course the commandant, who was then Major McNutt, was held responsible for the loss, and was retired, he asserting, however, that the blame should attach to Jones. Upon McNutt's retirement, Jones took possession of the elegant quarters of the command-ant, so that when McKee took command he found that he had no quarters, and demanded the house occupied by the Joneses. Mrs. Jones refused to move, and McKee insisted on the regular quarters of the commandant. There was war in earnest, Mrs. Jones going to the White House for permission to retain her luxurious apartments. The contest continued for some days, until finally, as the story goes, Captain Hamcounty, and had a large and orderly attendance, and have gone home much encouraged to continue their good family. This he refused to do, saying that an officer was entitled to quarters from the Government, but that a civillian employee was not. He went to see General Sherman, who advised a compromise. He went to see Adjutant General Townsend, who said: "Don't mention it; it is the President's order." But Hamilton swore he would mention it, because he knew his rights. Subsequently, and within a few days, the whole garrison, including McKee, Hamilton and the other officers and men, have been ordered to Fort Foote and Major Breckenridge is ordered with his garrison to the arsenal. Mrs. Jones, it need hardly be said, has moved into Hamilton's quarters.

THE TWO COMMITTEES.

How the Work of Informing and Influencing the People Progresses.

Washington Post. The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, with headquarters at the Capitol, is now employing upwards of one hundred persons in the distribution of political documents. Until recently the committee has been taking matters very quietly, and the Republi-cans were beginning to congratulate themselves that they would have the document business all their own way, but Chairman Blackburn put in an appearance last week, and immediately the Democracy took a few steps forward. The committee now occupy five rooms at the Capitol, and all of them are crowded with men and boys folding speeches for the mail. Gen. Walker, the secretary, has obtained lists of all the State, district, county, and local Democratic committees throughout the country, and the documents are sent to these committees for distribution. Senator Voorhees' great financial speech is in great demand, and up to the present about 150,000 copies have been sent out. Representative McMahon's speech on the conduct of the Democratic party towards the soldiers

s also sought after, and the speeches of Messrs. Atkins, Blount and Beebe on the appropriations, and of Messrs. Davis and Eden on war claims, are being distributed in large numbers. In addition to the speeches, a large number of documents containing the records of the Democratic and Republican parties on important public measures, are being sent out in large numbers. The force of folders is divided into two reliefs, and the work is kept going night and day. The Republican committee occupy a three-story building on F street, nearly opposite the Ebbitt House, where Secretary Gorham, of the Senate, is running the machine. Out of the whole Congressional committee, embracing a member from every district, he is the only man who has been willing to remain here throughout the campaign. Gorham, however, is not a candidate for Congress with a probable defeat staring him in the face, and the other committee men are in that un-comfortable position. The Radical committee has spent more money in disseminating Senator Windom's false record of appropriations than for any other document. They had it printed in the form of a supplement, and furnished it gratis to every paper that would use it. The Post, however, supplied an antidote for that little poison, which is being used very beneficially by the Democrats. The Republican committee spends more money in display than their competitors, a luxury which they can afford. They have their regu-Apply early this morning to A. C. Gorham knows how to scare the boys into paying up. They keep a public reading room which is, however, understood to be exclusively for the benefit of loafers who have credentials from the Radical party. They employ a stenographer, who takes down the thoughts of Secretary Gorham, and, in addition, ten clerks and a dozen folders. The Radical candidates prefer cash to documents, as it gives them a chance to console themselves with something more substantial than argument in case of defeat. It is reported that every Republican Congressional candidate has appealed to the Gorham committee for aid, ranging all the way from $1,000 to $20,000 to a district. The hungriest are located in the "Solid South."

The Appropriatious-Democratic Economy.

The New York World publishes an elaborate series of tables, embodying the history of the appropriation bills during the last three years of the Republican ascendancy and during the three years that the Democracy have controlled the House of Representatives. Taking, as the basis of calculation, the number of votes cast at the Presidential election in 1876, it is estimated that there are 8,500,000 American citizens in this country entitled to exercise the right of suffrage. Here, then, is the cost of government to the nation and to the individual voter during the last three years that a Republican House held-or rather loosed - the pursestrings:

Appropriations. Year. .$181,587,054.61 1875...... 177,679,473.77 1876...... 172,600,205.53

With this statement, let us contrast the showing for three years when the Democracy had partial control of the Government:

Year. Appropriations. 1877........$145,997,956.72 $17.18 140,384,606.95 1879...... 157,213,933.77

In other words, the highest expenditure under a semi-Democratic regime is 9 per cent, less than the lowest expenditure under an altogether Republican administration.

But though the appropriation bills for the last three years show a reduction as compared with those for the three years immediately preceding them of $88,270,236.47, or $10.38 per voter, there would have been a much greater reduction had the Democrats been allowed their own way. For the three fiscal years ending on the 30th of June next the Republican officials planned an expenditure $560, 783,907.23, or at the rate of $21.99 per voter per annum.

Had the Democratic House been al lowed to have its way the people would have been called upon to pay only $417,-077,903.99, or $16.36 per voter per aunum. The Democracy tried to save $143,709,003.24 to the nation, or $16.91 to every voter in the country.

But this it was not permitted to do The Republican Senate, though shamed into a partial economy, insisted that $51,183,018.53 should be added to the Democratic estimates; that is to say, wished to increase the cost of government to the individual voter by something over $2 a year.

Finally, however, the appropriation bills became law, with, as their totals, $443,596,497.44, at the rate of $17.39 per voter per annum. Let us now recapitulate figures:

Appropriations for three years-in the days of Grant's Presidency. . $531,866,733,91 As Grant and Hayes's

Cabinet Ministers would have liked to have them 560,783,907.23 As the Democrats would have had them had they been let alone... 417,077,903,99 As the Republican Senators wanted to have them when they found they couldn't grab the larger sum...... 468,260,922.52

As they are now, thanks to the fact that the Democrats control a part of the Government 443,596,497.44 The Democrats, therefore, though hampered by a Republican Senate which insists on spending 11 cents where a dime would do, has saved to the nation in three years $88,270,236.47—that is to say, has lessened the burden of taxation resting upon each voter by $10.38. The Democrats have thus given the average wage-earner of the country a etc., etc. week's holiday with full pay. Does he These are worthy examples. The like the prospect of a return to the Re- people and institutions of learning of publican regime which will compel him the South have been terribly impoverto give nearly three days' work more | ished by the late war and its results, than he now gives to pay his share of but we have still many men of means t cost of governing the country?

Unholy Alliances.

The Detroit News observes that, "so far as we have been enabled to observe, the National party seems every where to have derived its strength from secessions from the ranks of the party in

This is so, to a great extent, and for two reasons: In the first place, the Democrats, as a general rule, are entirely satisfied with the record and professions of their own party on al questions affecting the currency of the country and the best interests of the masses; and, in the second, the only hope of the Radical party to prevent the accession of the Democracy to the control of the government lies in its fusion with every possible element of opposition, however incongruous and antagonistic. It sees its speedy submersion beneath the waves of popular indignation, and catches at every straw of opportunity to prevent the doom. Especially is this the case at the South. where the Radicals have virtually abandoned their party organization. The leeches and blood-suckers, who have been compelled to loose their cormorant hold on place and office, see their only chance of re-gorging and acquiring a new lease on power by encouraging the growth of "Democratic Independents" -whether called "N ationals" or by any other name. In Texas the affiliation between the Nationals and Radicals it pronounced and undisguised. We defy any one to take up the last number of the new "National" newspaper in this city, issued from the ruins and on the type of the defunct Era, and read it carethat the old leaven of Radicalism per- make a note of it." vades it throughout. It stigmatizes the recent Democratic Convention in this city as an assemblage of aristocrats, without publishing the platform which it laid down and which embodies every possible guarantee for a sound and liberal currency and for the protection of the people against the uggressions of moneyed and monopolistic power. Ignoring the record we have given of the action of our representatives in Congress on all these questions, it abounds in nothing but abuse of the Democratic party. The Radical party, with its record of swindling and rings, of foster ing gigantic corporations, of currency comes in for never a word of its objurgations. There are, doubtless, many sincere men, here and there, who are laboring under the hallucination that they can arrive, through the agency of a new party, at the attainment of certain reforms, not so easily attainable elsewhere or otherwise. The eyes of these men will soon and certainly be opened, as time moves on and they realize that hey are drifting, unconsciously, into the very maelstrom of that pestiferous party from whose evils, dangers, misrule and corruption they fondly hoped they had escaped. There are others who make"Independentism" a mere cloak to conceal disappointed ambition and mercenary selfishness. To such men we have nothing to say. They are eaten up with greed, vanity and malignity, and are deaf alike to the appeals of reason or of patriotism. The grand, brave old Democratic party will stand to its moorings-steady, firm and steadfast-unswayed by the winds of caprice or of shifting expediency. It will go on AND PERFECT its work of restoring constitutional liberty, upholding the spirit of popular institutions, and legislating, in all matters, for the greatest good of the greatest Enduring Investments.

We have before us the address of Jas. C. Southall, LL. D., on "Man's age in the World," delivered at the opening of the Lewis Brooks Museum, at the University of Virginia, June 27th, 1878. As its title imports, it is a discussion of the various theories bearing on man's appearance on the Earth, and is handled with the most erudite scientific investigation and analysis.

The Museum is the result of a gift of $70,000 to the University of Virginia by Lewis Brooks, a wealthy citizen of the State of New York and an earnest well-wisher of the South, whose name. as the generous donor, purposely concealed, did not transpire until after his death, which occurred while the splendid collection of specimens, which now crowds the wide halls and splendidly filled galleries of the building, was being placed in position. That noble public benefactor, W. W. Corcoran, of Washington City, has recently also donated $50,000 to the same timehonored institution, to endow a special Department of History, making, we believe, $100,000 that he has given to the University of Virginia.

We have been impressed with statement we have recently seen of the various college bequests and endowments that have been made within the past twelve months. Harvard has been the recipient of the immense sum of $334,000, embracing donations for departments of International Law, Medicine, Divinity and Chinese instruction. Yale has received over $150,000 for various objects,-one of them being a bequest by the late Mrs. Caroline M. Street, of New Haven, of $50,000, which raises to $411,500 the amount of benefactions conferred by Augustus A. Street, (a graduate of 1812, who died ten years ago), and his wife, for the founding and endowment of the School of Fine Arts. Dartmouth has had $57,000; Cornell, $25,000; Brown Un:versity, $50,000; the University of Pennsylvania, $70,000; the Wesleyan University, $30,000; the Rose Polytechnic Institute, of Indiana, $107,000, but we have still many men of means among us, who have it in their power among us, who have it in their power is a structure of the structure thus to promote the diffusion of useful learning. What better investment can than by such benefactions? They make money tell-aye, for time and eternity. They plant seed which will ripen a thous_ and fold in the harvest of civilization, of social advancement, and of national prosperity. They will erect for their authors "columns of remembrance" higher and more enduring than shapely shaft or lofty obelisk, · · . . Monumentum ære perennius."

When Sir Walter Scott died, one of the most appropriate conceits of the day was an elegiac poem, in which the various creations of his wondrous pen were introduced as mourners about his grave. If it were not a species of sacrilege to travesty so exquisite a fancy. the times are ripe for a parody. As Jo. Turner "moves to take his place in the realms" of Radicalism, and woos its leaders, white and black, to his arms, the shades of departed carpet-baggers and (politically) defunct "scallawag; might well be summoned to witness the scene. Perhaps there is no need, however, of an imaginative invocation. One has but to go out upon the streets of Raleigh, any day, to hear their welcoming felicitations on the prodigal's arrival, -to witness their "joy over the sinner" that "'penteth." But, still, let us not do them injustice. Their joy is not so much at the acquisition as in the hope of Democratic disaffection. They will cajole, and then desert, him. They will nominate a candidate of their own, and it will be neither Turner nor Bledsoe. "Overhaul this," as Captain fully, without coming to the conclusion Cuttle would say, "and, when found

The operation of this law ceases on Saturday next, from and after which day Federal District Courts will exercise their bankruptcy functions exclusively towards winding up estates then within their jurisdiction.

We imagine that it will not be long before popular sentiment will demand the enactment of another bankrupt law, similar, in some respects at least, to the one just passing out of existence. And yet our statute books were without one from the days of Tyler to those contraction and of labor oppression, of Lincoln.

VEGETINE.

Dropsy.

FORGET THE FIRST DOSE.

MR. H R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir,—I have been a great sufferer from dropsy. I was confined to my house more than a year. Six months of the time I was entirely helpless. I was obliged to have two men help me in and out of bed. I was swollen 19 inches larger than my natural size around my waist. I suffered all a man could and live. I tried all remedies for Dropsy: I had three different doct rs. My frie das allexpected I would die; many nights I was expected to die before morning. At last Vegetine was sent me by a friend. I never shall forget the first dose. I could realize its good effects from day to day; I was getting better. After I had taken some 5 or 6 bottles I could sleep quite well nights. I began to gain now quite fast. After taking some 10 bottles, I cound walk from one part of my room to the other. My appetite was good: the dropsy had at this time disappeared. I kept taking the Vegetile until I regained my usual health. I heard of a great many cures by using Vegetine after I got out and was able to attend to my work. I am a carpenter and builder. I will also say it has cured an aunt of my wife's of Neuralgia, who had suffered for more tha 20 years. She says she has not had any ne ralgia for eight months. I have given ituone of my children for Canker Humor, to have no doubt in my mind it will cure a humor; it is a g eat cleanser of the blood my is safe to give a child. Vegetine.

I owe my Health TO YOUR VALUABLE.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—Having suffered from a breaking out of Cankerous Sores for more than five years, caused by an accident of a fractured bone, which fracture ran into a running sore, and have used everything I could think of and nothing helped me, until I had taken six bottlesof your valuable medicine which Mr. Miller the apothecary recommended very highly. The sixth bottle cured me, and all I can say, is that I owe my health toyour valuable Vegetine.

Your most obedient servant,

"It is unnecessary for me to enumerate the diseases for which the Vegetine should be used, I known of no disease which will not admit of its use, with good results. Almost innumerable complaints are caused by poisonous secretions in the blood, which can be entirely expelled from the system by the use of the Vegetine. When the blood is perfectly cleansed, the disease rapidly yields all pains cease; healthy action is promptly restored, and the patient is cured. MR. H. R. STEVENS:-

FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS

The following is from the Raleigh News, and was a voluntary insertion and Lot an advertisement:

"Years ago an old Indian left a receipt for curing Scrofula with Mrs. Person's father. Mrs. Person lives at Franklinton, or in that section. A child was born to Mrs. Person, and it had the scrofula. The doctors gave it up to die. She thought of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs drawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hurt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathered the herb, got the whisky, and did as directed to the child. Her child now lives well and hearty. More than this: Only a few months since a South Carolinian, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some scrofulous affection on the heel. He had been to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and from there he went to Kittrell Springs. Nothing did him any good. At Kittrell's they told him of Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. — wrote to Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. — wrote to Mrs. Person if she cured that South Carolinian her receipt was worth money. And the South Carolinian sent her word if she cured him he would give her five hundred dollars. She sent him directions what to do, and added if they cured him he could send her twenty-five dollars; she wouldn't ask five hundred. The South Carolinian went home, and shortly afterward sent Mrs. Person a cheek for twenty-five dollars, and wrote the most grateful letter he knew how. Eless those old Indians! We would like to have one for a near neighbor."

The above receipt has been tried by me with the most unprecedented success for the last twelve years, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as a sovereign cure for Scrofuls, and as a general Tonic and Blood Purifier, it is everywhere giving perfect satisfaction. While my experience with it is too limited for me to specially recommend it for other diseases. I believe it will ultimately prove to be of benefit in all cases arising from impurity of the blood, and probably for other diseases.

LOUISBURG, N. C., May 22, 1878.

MRS. JOE PERSON:

The medicine I purchased of you last winter proved of lasting benefit to my son. He was troubled with twenty-seven running sores, some of them quite large, and of a Scrofulous nature. In less than three weeks after commencing the use of your Remedy he was perfectly restored, and is to-day quite well and healthy. AN A TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER IT HAS NO EQUAL. Hoping that you may be spared for many years of usefulness, I remain,

Very Respectfully,

T. J. STOKES.

Weather Probabilities. WASHINGTON, D. C., August 28. For South Atlantic States partly cloudy eather, and possibly occasional rain; weather, and possibly occasional rain variable winds, mostly southerly, nearly stationary pressure and temperature.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

-The Greenback convention at Wilkesboro was a failure. -To-day is the anniversary of the beheading of St. John Baptist.

--- The bankrupt law ceases to be in effect after the 1st of September.

-The clouds now lower constantly, and the days wear a gloomy aspect. -- Summer soon passes away, and autumn gives us cooler days and more bracing air.

-New cotton is coming into Wilmington rapidly, the season being about a week earlier than usual.

-And now the papers say James Blaine, the waver of the bloody shirt, will put in appearance in this State, and will speak during the Congressional campaign.

-- U. S. Commissioner Purnell has been going for some retail liquor dealers for selling without license. It is strange that this should even beattempted in the city, where there is such danger of de-

Dog Poisening.

The city officials are down on the canine destroyers who have administered fatal doses to so many city dogs of high degree. They say that if apprehended at their nefarious work they will be dealt with severely. This will be what they deserve.

The University-New Students. The next session of the University begins to-day, yet we learn from a letter from Chapel Hill that there were two days ago, on Tuesday, no less than thirty-five new students. The total number of students will doubtless be over two hundred.

Raleigh Contributions

The amounts sent the yellow fever sufferers from this city aggregate $280. Of this amount $180 has been sent by the Mayor, $65 by the Hebrews, and $35 by the Catholic Aid Society. Nor has the city finished the work of charity. The suggestion is made that on Sunday collections for the benefit of the sufferers be taken up in all the churches

Bids Opened.

The bids for the 18 inch drain pipe from the new post office down Fayette-ville street to Rocky Branch, were opened yesterday. The lowest was by a Washington firm who put the roof on the building, and was in amount about $7,000. The length of terra-cotta pipe will be about one mile.

Magistrate's Court,

Two white men were before Justice Magnin, charged with an affray on Sunday last. The case was compromised, and dismissed at costs of defendant. The participants in a plantation row at Mr. Fisher's farm, near the city, were also before the same Justice. There were four of the party, two men and two women, all negroes. They were dismissed upon payment of costs.

The Campaiga.

Hon. J. J. Davis speaks to-day at Josiah Turner will be there also. This is the latter's first regular appointment, and thus he opens his campaign.

Maj. Bledsoe returned from Nashville, Nash county, yesterday. He was there during court week, and on Monday Hon. Mr. Davis and himself both spoke. A crowd of about one thousand heard the discussion.

New Partnership.

As will be seen by a reference to the new advertisements, Mr. E. B. Barbee has associated himself in business with Messrs. Rand & Barbee. The firm will hereafter be known as Rand & Barbee Bros. Mr. Barbee has in his former connection as partner of the firm of Barbee and Latta, won an enviable business reputation, and will add much to the fine firm he has joined.

Noisy Nuisances,

A deal of complaint is made of the infernal noise caused by the incessant cackling of a flock of geese who seem to think it their duty to perambulate Fayetteville and other streets all day. This is a charming spectacle on the principal streets of a would-be city. It keeps pace with the idea of allowing cows to rove everywhere. The imitation of the style of a country village may be delightfully rural, but it speaks very little for good judgment of the citizens. Will this ever be a real city in every way.

Aid the Suffering. Mr. Maurice Rosenbaum, one of the most large hearted citizens of this city, has donated a magnificent specimen of the flowering Oleander, to be sold at public auction on Saturday, for the benefit the yellow fever sufferers. The plant is over 8 feet in hight and in perfect shape and condition. The auctioneer will be Mr. J. J. Litchford. The plan will be that each bidder shall at once pay the price he bids, in cash. The highest bidder takes the plant. Here is a capital charge for the people to give an exhibition of liberality.

The plant can be seen at the office of Death of Capt. J. B. Grainger. much esteemed, so worthy in every walk of life, has cast a gloom over Wilmington, his home, that hangs upon it like a pall. The funeral ceremonies were participated in by organizations both civic and military, and all classes and conditions of people united in the dead. The funeral took place at St. John's Church, the following gentlemen officiating as pall bears: Hon. R. R. Bridgers, Major James Reilly, Col. J. J. Hedrick, Major C. M.

Steadman, Col. J. W. Atkinson. Major D. J. Devane, Major T. H. McKoy, Wm. H. Bernard. The Bank of New Hanover was closed during the entire day, and the business houses generally were closed during the hours fixed for the funeral.

A number of flags in the city were lisplayed at half-mast. Thus were laid to rest, with fitting ceremonies, the remains of one of the most courteous, noble gentlemen that ever tread the soil of Carolina.

The New Paster. Rev. John S. Watkins, who was recently elected pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of he charge by Rev. C. R. Vaughan, D.D., arrived on the eastern-bound train to-day, and for a few days will be the guest of the Messrs. Burwell, of Peace Institute.

The Presbyterians and the community generally are to be congratulated on the selection and acceptance of Mr. Watkins. Coming to his charge in the bloom of early manhood, with a mind rich by nature and cultivated by a long and arduous course of study at several of the best schools of Virginia, including two or three years at the University of that State; of such social connections as entitle him, beside the badge of his high office, to the entree of any community, and above all with a reputation for ardent piety and earnest zeal in the prosecution of his work, Mr. Watkins begins the cultivation of his new field under peculiarly happy auspices,

The ladies of Mr. W.'s congregation have shown due regard for Mrs. W.'s department, and recognizing the intimate relation between digestion and easy brain work, have well stocked the pantry of the manse with all good things for the inner material man. A street. tf. reception will be extended Mr. Watkins at Peace Institute by the courteous principals of the school.

Trial of the Impostors. Cohen and Harris, the two pretenders who have been vending eye-glasses, silverware, and practising the healing art in this section of country, were before His Honor Mayor Manly yesterday. Cohen, who is a particularly unattractive specimen of humanity, assumed in his travels to be Dr. R. H. Lewis, of Pleasant Grove, Johnston county. Mr. this city, while his equally ill-favored associate, Harris, pretended to be Dr. Harris, a noted practitioner of Richmond, Va. The prisoners were represented by counsel. Quite a number of witnesses, mostly victims of their practices, were present, and gave in testi-mony against them. The facts charged against them were all proved with but small trouble. His Honor required them to give each a bond of $300 for appearance at the next term of the riminal Court. Considerable information has been gained about the fraud, Cohen, which places him in no more pleasant light. It is understood that he is no other than the redoubtable Robert M. Cohen, of Goldsboro. He is a member of the Republican Congressional Committee of Mr. W. F. Kornegay, of Goldsboro, arrived in the city yesterday.

Religious News.

Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, D. D., has returned from Mooresville, where he attended Salisbury District Conference. He reports the meeting as having been a very arge one. It began on Thursday and closed Sunday. As many as 2,000 persons were present the last day. A revival began then and is now being conducted, with good results. At a protracted meeting recently held at Hayes' Chapel, of twelve days continuance, conducted by Rev. W. G. Clements, pastor, fifty persons were converted and twenty-seven received into the church. A large number of the members of different denominations participated. A flourishing Sunday-school, of some one hundred and fifty scholars, is connected with the church, the exercises of which were continued throughout the last winter. The moral and religious bearing of this school is plainly perceptible in that community. Quite a number of the scholars were converted.

Improvements. Mr Geo T Cooke is making an addition to his new store on Martin street, between Wilmington and Blount. It consists of a one story brick extension, 70x22 feet. The total length of the entire store will be 103 feet. The new building on Wilmington street, being built by Dr. McKee, will be occupied as an office by Mr. J. M

Dorrance. The ornamental coping of the addiion to the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum is nearly completed. The new portion will not be ready for occupancy by the 12th of September, at which time the school opens. The contractor promised that it should be ready, but the heavy rains have caused delays.

The old fence around the lot of the First Presbyterian Church has been torn away, and will be replaced by a newer and neater one. Some of the decaying trees in the yard have been cut down. The church is to receive some repairs and alterations in the interior.

Attention.

A lank, swarthy African, some fifty years of age, accompanied by a female, of nuch the same appearance, but much younger, rather astonished the Supeior Court Clerk, as he sat at his desk in the court room, yesterday by coolly walking up to him, heedless of all things else, and asking for a divorce, then and there. The couple probably thought divorces were as easily obtained as warrants, but from the way they were fired out of the room the clerk differed.

A Tried Remedy for Biliousness

Those who suffer from disorder or inaction of the liver will never get the upper hand of the unruly organ so long as they use such ir ational remedies as blue pill, calomel and podophyllin. But from the tried and popular medicine, Hostetter's stomach Bitters, they may expect relief with a certainty of obtaining it. The influence of the bitters upon the great billary gland is direct, powerful and speedily felt. The relief afforded is not spasmodie, but complete and permanent. The sallowness of the skin, turred appearance of the tongue, indigestion, costiveness, headache, nausea, pains through the right side and shoulder, in fact every accompanyment of the obstinate complaint are entirely and promptly removed by a course of this inestimable medicine, in behalf of which testimony is constantly emanating from every quarter and from all classes of society.

BEAUTY:

Secret of a Fair Face

AN ITEM OF INTREST TO EVERY LADY WHO DESIRES TO BE MORE BEAU. TIFUL THAN SHE NOW IS. Unfortunately no' one woman in a bundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate possesses that basis and starting point of real b auty—a pure and clear complexion.

What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish what nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish.

It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called

It drives away all evidences of fatigue and excitement.

It makes the plainest face beautiful.

It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face, and arms appear graceful, rotund, and plump.

It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.

The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawb.ck to beauty; and while it is as harmless as water, it is so lifelike in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use.

Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using Hagan's Magnolla Balm, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things cousidered, and may be had at any drug stors

POWDER -:0:-

We ask all cooks, housewives, and the general public to give our goods ar impartial tight. This Powder is carefully prepared upon scientific principles—the result of long and carefully experiments and tests in chemistry. In its proportions and compounding, it is the perfection of science, and is recommended by the leading Chemists in the United States, whose certificates we have. It is perfectly pure and wholesome, and saves time, labor and money as every consumer. It stands unrivaled; we challenge the world to produce better, pure or wholesome goods.

REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE USED:

A BARREL OF FLOUR MAKES ABOUT 40 POUNDS MORE BREAD IT NEVER FAILS AND ALWAYS PLEASES THE CONSUMER. IT IS THE PERFECTION OF SCIENCE IN COOKERY. IT IS A COMFORT FOR EVERY HOME.

WARRANTED TO KEEP IN ANY CLIMATE We do most earne-tly caution consumers of Baking Powder against using adulterated and cheap goods, as no good and pure Baking Powder can be sold for less than ours.

An analysis of the cheap clap-trap spurious adulterated goods called Baking Powder would startle the community of consumers beyond precedence, as most of it is not fif for use, and would not be allowed to be sold were the laws enforced; yet goods of this kind are manufactured and sold by dealers because offered cheap by unscrupinous manufactures. We caution those who value health, and appreciate good, wholesome living to buy only Pure Baking Powder. Jones' Unrivaled is such. It is an established article through with west and South, and is recommended by the highest authority for Purity and Strength All first-class storekeepers have it because it is pure and can be relied upon, and is a credit to their stock.

Merchants are authorized to warrant our goods where directions are followed.

Our statements are correct and are backed by chemists of note and experience, hold ourselves ready to prove our assertions.

We are offering goods of undoubted purity, which are in their compounding as claim "UNRIVALED." WM. A. TOTTLE & CO., Sole Agnts, BALTIMORE, Md.

TESTIMONIAL.

The success which the Kenmore High School has achieved under the energetic and conscientious administration of the Princisal and his able Assistant, and the preparation and training of its pupils, who have entered the University of Virginia, have fully justified the recommendation of this excellent School to the public, at its beginning. I regard it as a very successful educational foundation, and I trust it will continue for many years to do its good work for our State and country.
